Mr. A. J. Halsted, of this city, returned home yesterday from Brainard, Minnesoia, where he had been on a prospecting tour. While there Mr. Halsted was the same gril and the Northeastern Tribuse while thera. He thus acquires possession of a solid and well established newspaper, together with a successful book and job printing office. The Tribuse is the oldest newspaper on the Northern Facific road, having been established in 1870, and is Republican in politics. While Mr. Halsted, whose of friends here will regret to lose him from the community, they will be glad to know that he commences life at his new home under such favorable auspices. His ability and newspaper experience will make him a valuable citizen to firmsed, and his conduct of the paper there will no doubt be mutually beneficial to himself and the growing town.
